Education and Action

Instructions

What is the main highlight you heard today about climate resilience, sustainability and regeneration - community education and action?

Test

Pae gen green program

The underlying message I got was to involve the community in educating them and for them to participate

All the applied principles of co-design and evaluation across so many programs.

That hope is important and go for the long term

That community education can empower individuals to take collective action, driving sustainability through local initiatives.

Educating our young people

That people will commit to 12 month program
